Grant for animal rescue agency

HALO Animal Rescue has received a grant totaling $40,000 from the Nina Mason Pulliam Charitable Trust.

HALO (Helping Animals Live On) is a “no kill” animal rescue that gives temporary shelter to abandoned cats and dogs until they can be adopted into permanent homes. The funding provided by the trust will help the non-profit organization provide items such as vaccinations and teeth cleaning, two important components to keeping pets healthy.

“Our agency has saved over 70,000 pets during the last 25 years,” Heather Allen, HALO president and CEO, said in a released press statement. “This grant from the Nina Mason Pulliam Charitable Trust will give us additional resources to ensure we can continue our lifesaving work and provide full-service medical care to the homeless pets who depend on us.”
